

HONORS

Honors students are not born; they are made when people decide they are ready to challenge themselves. The Honors Program at SBCC believes that all students can be Honors students and seeks students who want to be part of a community of faculty and students. The Honors Program uses a rewarding and challenging interdisciplinary approach to general education. Each year the Honors Program focuses on a shared theme, chosen by Honors students. This creates a more coherent, interesting approach to GE and IGETC requirements, allowing Honors students to investigate ideas across disciplines while making lasting friendships. Our mini-communities, called PODS, are arranged around particular interests and encourage students to know each other. The Program kicks off each semester with a field trip. Each spring, we host an academic conference, open to all SBCC students. Our innovative approach to education, combined with students' own hard work, results in our 100% transfer rate. Students transfer to excellent schools, from the best UCs to private colleges and universities, including NYU and Columbia. Enrolling in the Honors Program and completing the certificate shapes independent learners who exercise their talents at their own highest level of excellence.
